

Monday, September 17, 2007

Use the flower

Almost every camera sold today has a macro mode. Almost every leaked picture of tech gadgets is blurred to a point, where the subject could be anything from insect to iPhone.

When taking that kind of picture PLEASE use the macro mode of your camera. The icon to the left symbolizes that mode on almost any camera. It's meant to take pictures of nearby objects and it works... Even my cellphone has a macro mode.

PLEASE use it. It's definitely worth it!

Posted by Stefan LH at 10:46